DOCTORS WILL GO TO CLINTON NEXT

Choose Place of Meeting and Elect Officers

Most Successful Session of Southwestern Kentucky Association Comes To End.

FINE BANQUET LAST NIGHT

Dr. V. A. Stille, Benton, president, Dr. J. V. Kimbrough, McCracken, vice-president. Dr. J. S. Davis, Lowes, second vice-president. Dr. C. E. Purcell, Paducah, secretary. Dr. C. H. Brothers, Paducah, treasurer. R. T. Hocker, Arlington, Historian.

As indicated in The Sun yesterday, the principal officers were elected at the business session of the Southwestern Kentucky Medical Society last evening in the council chamber. All the officers assumed their duties this morning, the session being called to order by President Stille. Dr. Purcell was at the secretary's table. Clinton was chosen as the place for the semi-annual meeting of the society next fall. Dr. E. B. Shelton, the retiring president, made his annual address last night in which he reviewed the condition of the society.

This morning's session will wind up the thirty-sixth annual convention of the society. Many papers on the program could not be given as the authors are not present. The attendance this year has been representative, and the interest is marked. Many doctors arrived yesterday afternoon to be present at the afternoon and evening sessions and the banquet at the Palmer House.

One hundred and ten doctors sat down to the banquet last night. It probable was the largest attendance at any of the social features ever given by the society. This year's convention is conspicuous for the absence of the doctors' wives and daughters. Almost without exception they were left at home.

Doctors began leaving early this morning for their homes and the attendance at the last session was considerably lower than yesterday.

Resolutions on the death of several members of the society since the last annual meeting, were introduced in this afternoon's session by Dr. R. T. Hocker, the historian of the society. The papers that were not finished this morning were read this afternoon. The doctors expressed their appreciation of the use of the council chamber the courtesy of the city hall officials, and the cordial reception given by the local doctors, and adjourned until the semi-annual meeting next November.

DR. HART BASEBALL PLAYER.

Murray Physician Is Well-Known to Paducah Fans.

Dr. Prince Hart, of Murray, who is here attending the annual session of the Southwestern Kentucky Medical association, is well known in Paducah, especially among the baseball fans. Hart is an excellent catcher and formerly traveled about this section playing semi-professional baseball. He caught "Skeeter" Hedges, when Hedges was developing, and has been seen behind the bat for Paducah in many a game with the old-time rival, Cairo. Dr. Hart also did work for Murray when Murray had a strong team. Having taken up the practice of medicine, Dr. Hart does not play the national game any longer.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND IN RIVER

Comes to Surface Near Owen's Island This Morning

May Be Miss Robbie Woodruff, Stewardess of Henrietta, Who Is Reported Drowned.

HAS FLOATED TWENTY MILES

Moving a coal barge at the Ayer-Lord Tio fleet at Owen's Island this morning at 9:45 o'clock caused the body of a woman to come into view. Though not positively identified, it is supposed to be the body of Miss Robbie Woodruff, stewardess on the tow-boat Henrietta. Miss Woodruff was missed Wednesday, May 8, while the boat was near the railroad bridge over the Tennessee river, 20 miles above Paducah.

Captain W. R. Smith, of the Castalia, harbor boat of the Ayer-Lord fleet, first saw the body. The Castalia was backing into the river shifting the tie barges, when the body, which had been caught under the coal flat, rose to the surface. Herbert Egerton, a watchman, and John Jacobs, a fireman, caught the body and brought it to the city in a skiff. At 10 o'clock it was removed to the Guy Nance Undertaking store. Only one man was found this morning who could say that the body was that of Miss Woodruff. Thomas Hawkins, of Metropolis, who knew Miss Woodruff, thought he could identify her by her clothing and her physique.

Coroner Frank Eaker saw the body and ordered it embalmed to await more witnesses. He will hold an inquest when some one who can identify the body, can be found, or when the Henrietta with its crew returns.

Miss Robbie Woodruff has been on the Henrietta for several years and was reputed to be part owner of the boat. Her business on the boat was that of stewardess. She was the only white woman on the boat. Opinions among the local river men who know Miss Woodruff, vary as to the probable cause of her death. As none of the crew profess to have seen her fall off the boat or disappear, the theory of suicide is accepted among many. It is also said that she might have fallen off the boat in the confusion that attended the sinking of the Henrietta's coal flat last Wednesday. The report of her disappearance was brought to the city by the return of the boat Thursday after more coal.

John Wright, a river cook who knew Miss Woodruff well, saw the body this afternoon and has no doubt about its identity.

NEW SCHOOL SITE NOW CONSIDERED

Some School Trustees See Chance to Save Thousand Dollars on Property in Same Neighborhood

MAY CHANGE THEIR MINDS.

The temptation of $1,000 and a slightly better adapted location may cause the school board to refuse to buy the Yopp property at Twelfth and Ohio streets for a new school house site. Members of the school board have been investigating other property in that vicinity, and one site just as large and possibly better situated, can be purchased for $1,000 less.

Mr. Ambrose Mercer, the Illinois Central engineer, owns property at Thirteenth and Ohio streets, two squares further southwest. The road runs into a hollow but the hollow is a great deal further away than the one in the rear of the Yopp property. Mercer has quoted school board members a price said to be $1,000 cheaper than the first site selected. His property consists of two big lots well graded and in good condition.

Several deeds were filed this week for record. This is necessary before the school can secure a clear deed to all the property Yopp expects to sell. It is understood the board is seriously considering the Mercer property.

Hon. Hal S. Corbett went to Louisville this morning on legal business.

"Gracious akes, Theodore, if you ain't goin' in please get off the springboard!" —Daring in Des Moines Register and Leader.

TRAMPLED BY MULE AND BONES BROKEN

Thomas Alexander is in Serious Condition at Maxon Mills as Result of Accident—Work of Vicious Animal

TAKING MEASURE OF TEAM.

Thomas Alexander, formerly in the grocery business with "Buster" Potter near Campbell on Eighth street, lies in a serious condition at Maxon Mills with a broken shoulder and five fractured ribs, as the result of being trampled under foot by an angry mule and later run over by a wagon loaded with flour.

Alexander is employed at Maxon Mills, eight miles from Paducah on the Cairo pike, as driver for Temple Brothers, flour millers. He was seated on his wagon when a prospective purchaser for his mules inquired their measure. Alexander descended and began measuring.

One mule started forward and knocked Alexander down. Jumping on him the maddened animal stamped him time and time again, the efforts of the man to assist being futile. After knocking Alexander unconscious the mule started forward, dragging its companion with it, the wheels of the wagon passing over the still form.

ENTERTAIN FAIRBANKS

WHEN HE REACHES CITY.

While President H. C. Rhodes is out of the city, members of the Paducah Commercial club seen today, expressed themselves in favor of ascertaining whether the Fairbanks party, which leaves Chattanooga June 5 on an inspection trip on the Tennessee river, may be brought here, and taking steps to entertain the distinguished visitors while here. The idea is not to make this a Commercial club reception, but a demonstration in behalf of the city.

WHEAT PIT STILL SCENE OF BATTLE

Chicago, May 15.—High excitement still prevails in the wheat market. Opposing forces are fighting for mastery. Wall street and the outsiders holding all the available supply are still buying. Insiders are trying to force prices down to re-establish their trade. Wheat lost 1 1/4 cents at the opening on more favorable weather reports from the northwest.

This is the ninety-seventh general assembly of the church, which claims over 100,000 members, and it is expected that 1,800 people will attend. On account of the smallness of the town, 500 tents have been provided for the accommodation of the commissioners and visitors, and the sessions will be held in a tent, having a capacity of 1,200. Commissioners from the Mayfield Presbytery are the Rev. Elmos Rudolph and A. M. Hicks, principals; the Rev. J. E. Edwards, of Water Valley, and J. J. Magnus, alternates.

MAY SNOW STORM CAME HERE TODAY

It snowed in Paducah at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Whether it was in one small spot or not is impossible to say, but two patrolmen whose veracity cannot be questioned, declare they saw it, felt it, and know that it snowed.

"Yes, it snowed last night," was the declaration of Patrolmen Wm. Orr and Jack Sanders, of the depot here.

"I took off my hat to make sure," Sanders continued. "I saw a thin white layer on the brick, and with my finger raked it off, tasted it, and became assured that it was snow."

PREACHES SERMON TO THE GRADUATES

MITCHELL SELLS GLASS OF LIQUOR

Will Apply For Writ of Habeas Corpus Tomorrow

Ordinance Directing Revocation of Saloon License Will Be Brought Before Court.

ATTORNEY ADVISES CONDUCT.

By the voluntary sale of a glass of liquor, a necessary procedure, this morning by W. M. Mitchell, proprietor of a saloon at Tenth and Harris streets, the validity of a city ordinance empowering Mayor Yelzer to revoke a saloon license when a violation of the Sunday closing law is proven, is brought before the court. The action this morning was taken on advice of Attorneys Campbell & Campbell, representing Mitchell, and Senator Wheeler Campbell who will handle the case, declares that he believes the ordinance will be knocked out ultimately.

Mitchell was fined in police court on the charge of keeping open on Sunday, the case having been submitted on the court overruling a motion to dismiss the warrant. Appeal was taken and Mayor Yelzer revoked Mitchell's license.

"This action of my client this morning was done on my advice and for the purpose of testing the validity of this ordinance the mayor cites in revoking the license," stated Senator Campbell. "I have reviewed the law carefully and thoroughly, and find no decisions in any cases, except in states where a special legislative act has empowered cities to regulate the issuance and control of saloon licenses, where any municipal executive body can assume such authority. The question we wish settled is whether the city may assume such powers. We believe not, and will, after being fined in police court tomorrow, apply for a writ of habeas corpus to secure a test of the point in circuit court."

The case of Jones against the city of Paducah, pending in the appellate court, is to test the validity of that portion of the ordinance empowering the mayor to compel the surrender of bond made by saloon keepers, but Senator Campbell and his client will test the entire ordinance.

Halley, 907 Harrison streets, and a graduate of the Paducah High school and Kentucky State college.

DOCTORS ARE IMPRESSED WITH MODERN HOSPITAL

Riverside hospital was a point of interest to many of the visiting doctors today. No special effort was made to have all the doctors inspect the hospital, but a good impression was made on those who did go. This hospital has a growing patronage from the surrounding towns and its facilities with the medical attention afforded, makes it the leading institution of its kind in Southwest Kentucky. Each year more doctors see the hospital and find it a desirable place to send their patients.

COPY OFFERED $25,000
TO TELL OF MRS. GOULD

Denver, Colo., May 15.—About a month ago Colonel William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") was called to Denver and offered first $10,000 and later $25,000 if he would tell Howard Gould's agents all he knew of the early life of Gould's wife. The story has just become known through some of his old comrades in whom he confided.

Colonel Cody knew Mrs. Gould when she was Catherine Clemmons and traveled with her show, though she was not a part of it. The agents asked him if he ever heard anything about Catherine Clemmons and "Big Hawley" feeding a Frenchman in Italy out of a large sum of money. The veteran scout's answer was:

"You'll have to see my lawyers. You see," he added, "I have a claim for $60,000 against Mrs. Howard Gould for money due me for her stage education and for financing her productions before her marriage."

This is alleged to be not the only attempt Howard Gould has made in the west to get inside information about the early life of the woman he married. At present he has detectives in California searching the records and trying to find out all they can about her.

PRESIDENT DIAZ, OF MEXICO, MAKES A DENIAL.

Has No Dream of Perfecting Central American Union Under His Own Dictatorship.

City of Mexico, May 15.—President Diaz today denied emphatically the statements attributed to him in the alleged interview published in New York concerning a protectorate in Central America. The president declared he had never spoken of a protectorate, or nominal federal union of Central American states and that the remarks relative to the advisability of the federation of Central American countries were never uttered by him.

Thirty feet and four tenths on the gauge and more rain in sight; 1.60 inches of rain fell in the last 24 hours and the river shows the effect this morning with a rise of 0.5 since yesterday. May will be a close second to last January in the amount of rainfall. The stage on this date last year was 14. Business at the wharf is good in spite of the weather.

The crew of the Joe Fowler left last night on the John Hopkins for Evansville to start out the Joe Fowler again after a month's layoff from a broken shaft. The Joe Fowler will leave Evansville Thursday night.

The John Hopkins arrived late yesterday afternoon and left last night. The Peter Lee will arrive Thursday at noon from Memphis on the way to Cincinnati. The Georgia Lee left Cincinnati today for Memphis. The Russell Lord has returned from St. Louis after carrying a big trip of ties to that city.

The City of Savannah is expected to arrive tonight from the Tennessee river and will leave for St. Louis after cleaning up the local business.

The band on the Dick Fowler has begun to attract loafers around the wharf to listen to the tuneless music. Business was good with the Dick Fowler in the Cairo trade today.

The Butteroff arrived this morning a little late from Clarksville and cleared this afternoon for Nashville. The City of Saitillo will leave St. Louis tonight for the Tennessee river, passing here Friday.

Inspectors Green and St. John have inspected the Chattanooga since that packet was pulled out on the ways, and found a few planks bad. The Chattanooga will not get off the ways until next week.

The inspectors are keeping river men on the jump now. They have a way of going to a boat when the officers are away and ringing the fire alarm. The scampering that follows to get to their places is amusing. Then they are generally enforcing the regulations, but it is making river travel a safe mode of conveyance.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville, will continue rising during the next 12 hours and become stationary. From Mt. Vernon to Paducah, will continue rising during the next 24 hours. At Cairo, will continue to fall slowly during the next 24 hours.

The Tennessee from Florence to below Johnsonville, will fall during the next 24 hours.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, and the Wabash at Mt. Carmel, will continue falling during the next 24 hours.

Deal Will Arrange Music.

Professor William Deal, leader of The Kentucky orchestra and the Paducah Military band, has been engaged by Mr. Boyle Woolfolk to arrange "Dixie Daisies", one of Mr. Woolfolk's song hits in "The Traveling Man", for orchestra. Mr. Woolfolk will leave a copy of the entire score of the musical piece with Professor Deal who will arrange a big selection.

WATTEHSON HAS "DARK HORSE."
Says He Can Pick Democrat to Supercede Bryan as Lender.

Louisville, May 15.—Suggestion that he can name an available dark horse to supersede Mr. Bryan in the lists next year, if the Nebraskan with draws from the Democratic leadership, is made by Henry Watterson in an editorial on matters political which will appear in the Courier-Journal tomorrow morning.

After taking Mr. Bryan to task for drawing the line against gold democrats as possible leaders, "thus going out of his way to make distinctions where total oblivion is necessary to perfect union, and perfect union essential to carrying the country," Mr. Watterson says:

"It is frequently given out that Mr. Bryan does not want the nomination next year. Certainly, unless he can haul the party, it would do him more harm than good. If he does not crave the kingship, however, he may not be averse to playing the role of Warwick and, in that event we can tell him a Democrat who, without entangling alliance with any of the money powers, yet without any antecedents which could drive away conservative Democrats, fills the specification made by him exactly. A good organization Democrat who supported the ticket in 1896, who, in our judgment, could still the discords and restore the harmonies, yea, fill the loose sails of the Old Ship of Zion with hopeful gales, and perhaps prove an Abraham Lincoln to the lost sheep of the house of Jefferson and Jackson and Tilden. He does not live east of the Alleghenies, either, nor south of the Potomac and the Ohio."

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

Sensible Advice to Women from Mrs. Henry Lee, Mrs. Fred Certia and Mrs. Pinkham.

MRS. HENRY LEE

MRS. FRED CERTIA

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.

This is the most critical period of her whole existence and every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active and with a host of nervous irritations make life a burden. At this time also cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, melancholia, dread of impending evil, palpitation of the heart, irregularities, constipation and dizziness are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when this great change may be expected.

Mrs. Fred Certia, 1014 So. Lafayette Street, So. Bend, Ind., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine for women who

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health, actually thousands of women, you cannot well say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." It is your duty to yourself and family to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

are passing through Change of Life. For several months I suffered from hot flashes, extreme nervousness, headache and sleeplessness. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I had made up my mind there was no help for me until I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, my bad symptoms ceased, and it brought me safely through the danger period, built up my system and I am in excellent health. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound unsurpassed for women during this trying period of life."

Mrs. Henry Lee, 60 Winter Street, New Haven, Conn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"After suffering untold misery for three years during Change of Life I bought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I wrote you of my condition, and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and followed your advice and to-day I am well and happy. I can now walk anywhere and work as well as anyone, and for years previous I had tried but could not get around without help. I consider your medicine a sovereign balm for suffering women."

Women passing through this critical period should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If there is anything about your case you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It is free and has guided thousands to health.

Experience as a Factor in the Lumber Business

Experience is a strong factor when it comes to filling orders satisfactorily, and that is one reason we are today able to handle orders that others cannot handle. We take our lumber from the stump and deliver it to the contractor and builder, thereby saving the heavy loss and expense of floating and caring for the logs. We also handle all kinds of Sash, Doors, Mouldings, Shingles, etc. Give us a trial order and become our customer.

Languid Liver

Is a universal evil of all warm climates, and is common, in the hot season, everywhere. Its effects are quickly felt, in that sleepy, drowsy, tired feeling, headache, loss of appetite, constipation, sick stomach, poor blood, pimples, sallow complexion, nervousness, irritability, melancholy, etc.—all caused by the bilious acids acting on the blood, the cure for which is a quick cleaning-up of the system with

THE DRAUGHT'S BLACK-DRAUGHT (Liver Medicine)

Absolutely no other remedy superior to this for all the common hot climate liver diseases. For over seventy (70) years, its sale has steadily increased, until now it is the standard, vegetable, liver medicine. Its merits may best be proved by its flock of spurious imitations. Every druggist has been imposed upon by salesmen, and has one or more imitations in stock. Be sure YOU get the genuine. Imitations are injurious. Look for the name "The Draught" on the yellow wrapper, for if you get the genuine it will never disappoint. Try it.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicine greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and herbs. It is much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry bark, bloodroot, Golden Seal root, St. John's wort and Quercus root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, St. John's wort, Quercus root, and Black Cherry bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe chronic, lingering chronic coughs, bronchitis and pulmonary troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective, but the lingering hang-over coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvellous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine: "It is a powerful and excellent purgative. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured purgatives of the present time. Its action upon the bowels, disordered stomachs, especially if there is inflammation or catarrh of the stomach, is most efficient. It is a most efficient purgative, especially in cases of prostatic (disorder) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the natural medicinal roots contained in this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

CHAPTER XXIX.

THE marquise made a wry face at his departing figure, which changed swiftly into a smile as she turned to the young vicomte.

"Ah, these Englishmen!" she exclaimed. "These dull, good, obstinate, stupid pigs of Englishmen! If they would lose their tempers once—get angry, anything! Do they make love as coldly, I wonder?"

"Dear cousin," he answered, "I do not know. But if you will permit me I will show you!"

"Hence!"

"You are so adorable, Angele," he murmured.

"And you," she answered, "are so indolgent. It is not your day, my moment. I have left word that he is to be above you."

"There, my friend for one moment, no so roughly, sir. And now tell me why you came."

"On a diplomatic errand, my dear cousin. I must see Miss Poynton."

"She touched a bell."

"I will send for her," she said. "I shall not let you see her alone. She is much too good looking, and you are far too impressionable."

He looked at her reproachfully.

"Angele," he said, "you speak so of a young Englishman—to me, Henri de Bergille—to me who has known—who knows?"

"She interrupted him laughing. The exaggerated devotion of his manner seemed to amuse her."

"My dear Henri," she said, "I do not believe that even a young Englishman is safe from you. But attend. She comes."

Phyllis entered the room and came toward them.

"Phyllis," the marquise said, "this is the vicomte de Bergille, and he brings you messages from some one or other. Your affairs are quite too complicated for my little head. Sit down and let him talk to you."

"If M. le Vicomte has brought me messages from the right person," Phyllis said, with a smile, "he will be very welcome. Seriously, monsieur, I seem to have fallen among friends here whose only unkindness is an apparent desire to turn my life into a maze. I hope that you are going to lend me out."

"I can conceive, mademoiselle," the vicomte answered, with his hand upon his heart, "no more delightful undertaking."

"Then I am quite sure," she answered, laughing softly, "that we are both going to be very happy. Please go on!"

"Mademoiselle speaks delicious French," he murmured, a little surprised.

"And, monsieur, I can see," she answered, "an apt flatterer. Afterward as much as you please. But now—well, I want to hear about Guy."

"Mademoiselle has commanded," he said, with a little gesture. "To proceed then. M. Guy is well and is my constant companion. He is with friends who wish him well, and this morning, mademoiselle, the president himself has given written orders to the police to proceed no further in the unfortunate little affair of which mademoiselle has knowledge."

"Phyllis had lost all her pallor. She smiled delightedly upon him. M. le Marquis rose with a little impulsive movement and walked to the further end of the room."

"How nice of you to come and tell me this," she exclaimed, "and what a relief. I am sure I think he is very fortunate to have made such good friends."

"Mademoiselle," he declared with emphasis, "one at least of those friends is more than repaid."

She laughed back into his eyes, frankly amused by his gallantry.

"And now," she said, "we come to the beginning of the riddles. Why is it necessary for him to be supposed drowned if he is no longer in danger from the police?"

"Ah, mademoiselle," he said, "I must speak to you now of strange things, but first I must implore you to promise me this and remember it always! Every word that I am going to say to you now must remain for the present a profound secret. That is agreed?"

"Certainly!" she answered.

"Your brother," he continued, "in his travels on the continent stumbled by chance upon a state secret of international importance. He had himself no idea of it, but a chance word which he fell on the first evening I met him gave the clue to myself and some friends. In his enforced retirement we that is, my uncle and others—learned from him the whole story of his adventure. It has placed the government of this country under great obligations. This, together with your service to us, has secured his pardon."

"This is wonderful!" she murmured.

"It is not all," he continued. "The spies of the country where he learned this secret have followed him to Paris. They are today searching for him everywhere. If they knew that he had been in the possession of what he had seen and had communicated it to the proper persons here our advantage in knowing it would be largely lost. So far they have not traced him. Now I think that you have the key to what must have puzzled you so much."

Phyllis entered the room and came toward them.

"This is wonderful!" she murmured.

"Let me think for a moment."

"You are naturally, anxious," the vicomte continued, "to see your brother. Before very long, mademoiselle, I trust that it may be my pleasure to bring you together, but when I tell you that you are watched continually in the hope that through you your brother's hiding place may be found you will understand the wisdom which for the present keeps you apart."

"I suppose so," she answered dubiously. "But now that his death is reported?"

Little Ills of Children

Mothers and all others who have children about the house cannot do their families a better service than to learn of simple and reliable remedies that correct children's ailments. Many grown people are suffering today for the ignorance or negligence of those who had charge of their bringing up.

Children are prone to constipation, and if it isn't corrected early, the howls get in the habit of not working normally and soon chronic constipation results that may last off and on all through life. Then children eat almost continually and as a consequence indigestion sets in soon followed by worms, or stomach pains, or diarrhea, or any one of a dozen other troubles. It is only by the use of a reliable remedy that the child will not be put to too much trouble in getting it.

A better way is to give the child a dose of something intended to cure that very trouble, and nothing better for the purpose is known than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It never grips a child and is so gentle and so pleasant that the child will not refuse to take it. Buy a 5-cent or 10-cent bottle of your druggist and save the child from sickness. It is only by the use of a reliable remedy that the child will not be put to too much trouble in getting it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which she gives regularly in these disorders, Mrs. Everett, of Hindsboro, Ill., is frank to say that the present good condition of her five-year-old boy is entirely due to this wonderful remedy. "It is in your own family and see if you cannot share these opinions. Every bottle is guaranteed to do exactly as we claim, and the purity of ingredients is also vouched for."

Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will find it in their home by addressing the company. MATINEE CLUB

GIVES WAY TO LADIES IN MATTER OF DATE FOR MEET.

On Account of May Festival Races Will Be Held May 23, Instead of May 21.

Owing to the Music Festival being on May 21 the Matinee club will have its races May 23. The going will sound at 2:30 p. m. and the outlook is for some very fast and interesting contests. Four good races have been arranged and as there is to be no betting they will be run strictly on their merits, the best horse winning. Names of the horses, together with their owners and who will drive them will be published shortly and the fact that the drivers are all well known local people will add no little to the interest. Matinee racing, being entirely free from the objectionable gambling features, is one of the cleanest sports in America today, and is doing much for that grandest member of the equine family, the American trotting horse. The initial meeting of the Paducah Matinee club promises to be a signal success.

GIVE OFFICER "THE SILENCE" AND GET ONE IN RETURN

Annapolis, Md., May 15.—The first midshipman battalion gave Lieutenant Commander McVay "the silence" today, and as a result the whole battalion is under nominal arrest. In addition they had a little unwelcome taste of "silence" themselves.

Giving an unpopular officer "the silence" is a practice as old as the academy itself. Today when the 800 midshipmen went to the mess hall for dinner they kept absolute silence; no word was spoken. The silence was oppressive.

Lieutenant Commander McVay in turn gave the midshipmen a little silence on his own account. For two long hours after the meal was finished the officer sat quietly at the table. Other midshipmen were in their rooms, in the "gym," or on the ball field, or in the swimming tanks. The "silence" battalion, however, sat at table and twiddled its thumbs.

At the end of two hours Lieutenant Commander McVay dismissed the boys. Then he reported them and the order came that they should be confined in barracks indefinitely.

Now the midshipmen are wondering who got the worst of the "silence" racket.

DAMAGE EXAGGERATED.

Kansas Farmers Say Wheat Crop Is Not Nearly So Bad.

Topeka, Kas., May 15.—F. D. Coburn, secretary of the state board of agriculture, is receiving many letters from men throughout the wheat belt of Kansas saying the condition of wheat is improved compared with the first of the month when Coburn issued his spring crop report. Most of these letters come from farmers, most of whom have lived in Kansas 15 years or more and fully understand crop conditions. These men insist that reports of crop damages sent out by grain men and others are much exaggerated.

In some parts of Switzerland all the dead are buried by the government, without respect to wealth or position.

NOTED SOLOISTS

SECURED TO SING AT MAY FESTIVAL MAY 21.

James' Band and Chorus Will Not Be the Only Attractions at League Park Grounds.

Besides the James' Band which has been engaged as the principal attraction for the festival to be given on Friday, May 24th, the management has been fortunate in securing several notable soloists. Miss Virginia Listemann, the soprano, as is well known, is an artist of rare ability with a national reputation, having sung in the principal cities of this country and Europe with phenomenal success. Her voice is of high and ringing quality and at all times under perfect control, whether singing the inspiring strains of Brundage or the pathetic role of Marguerite. Among the other soloists will be Mrs. Zoe Park, contralto, Mr. A. D. Shaw, tenor and Mr. Forest Dabney, baritone.

AMERICAN ACTORS ARE HOOTED

London Audience Resents Portrayal by Sothern and Marlowe.

London, May 13.—Julia Marlowe and E. H. Sothern had their baptism of fire last night, when they were called before the curtain of the theater where they are playing and were hooted and "hoosed."

The British audience resented their realistic portrayal of Henry VIII. In an American play. It was the first presentation of "When Knighthood Was in Flower." All went well until the last act. The house was well filled with a reasonably enthusiastic audience. King Henry appears in the last act as a jovial, but undignified monarch. The part was only slightly exaggerated from the historical traditions, but the gallery gods did not know that and manifested some disapproval during the act. After the curtain went down the two visiting stars were called out and "hoosed" lustily by the gallery, while the better part of the audience applauded.

This was the first time either actor had been subjected to an experience of this sort during their stage careers. Miss Marlowe smiled sweetly, however, and neither was ruffled. London audiences frequently treat their greatest favorites in this manner when they are displeased with the play or the players, but usually they are more considerate toward visitors.

PENNANT Raising Failure.

Chicago, May 15.—A series of mishaps commencing with the breaking of the flag pole and ending with a furious rain and wind storm marred the demonstration at the raising of the world's championship baseball pennant at the American league park here today.

The progress of the Catholic church in Australia is perhaps the most striking religious fact in modern history. There are men living who remember the time when there was not one priest on the Australian continent.

Daily Thought.

"Truth and right somehow in the end must prevail. The divine in our nature will not always be defeated. In this thought we get courage to struggle again."—Felix Adler.

CLEANING UP.

Paducah's annual cleaning up so far has not taken on the proportions of a crusade against unsanitary conditions. There seems to be nothing general and extensive in the work;
no official cognizance of conditions.
This spring clean up in some cities
calls for a proclamation from mayor, orders to the police department, and instructions to the householders. Chicago, taking the tip from her western neighbors, excused the schools
one day and the whole city was scoured from alley to boulevard. The best sanitary inspectors are the police, and the patrolmen should be given particular instructions this spring to investigate conditions on their respective beats and report all unsean-tary conditions. It is their duty to go over the territory assigned to them every day. Day patrolmen in the residence sections have nothing under the sun to do, but walk around, save in case of emergency, likely, of course, to arise at any time, but seldom encountered twice in a month.
They could be performing a useful daily service by inspecting premises as they make their rounds. The plan is not original with The Sun. It has been tried in other cities and, where-ever tried, it is continued. It is as much the duty of policemen to see that sanitary laws are obeyed, as to see that any other laws are obeyed;
but they are not likely to go out of their way to hunt up new laws to enforce, unless instructed to do so.

And Kentucky got the worst of it again. After the legislature passed a law prohibiting the shipment of intoxicating liquors into a prohibition county, the federal court holds that this law does not affect common carriers doing an interstate business, and wholesale whiskey houses may ship liquor from adjoining states into any county in Kentucky without incurring liability under that state act.

With the departure of the Democratic candidate for mayor, municipal politics will be discarded for a month while "friends" of both factions intervene to line up the city administration for the ticket and induce Chief Collins to forget all about it. Will they succeed and will the city administration be found fighting for its traducers? We shall see.

Dollar wheat is a joyful sound to those agriculturists in the rich bottoms of the Chicago board of trade, where the Bulls are controlling the price. In other sections where the green worm has a more marked effect on conditions, there is less interest because the farmers have sold their wheat.

William Ellis Corey and Mabelle Gillman need not have kept their wedding guests up until after midnight to avoid being married on the thirteenth. Corey's hoodoo number runs into seven figures.

Why not swear in the candidate for city attorney to serve as police court prosecutor pro tem. In that way we could get a line on his method of procedure in cases of Sunday violation.

It is a hopeful sign, these congressmen floating on the bosom of the great rivers of the central valley
—but we wish Paducah's water front looked a little better from the river.

Now the police may take as many alleged Sunday violators before the police court as they wish without jeopardizing the chances of the Democratic municipal ticket next fall.

They have a saying in Pittsburg,
that a "fool and his grandfather's money are soon parted."

Better tuck that Ohio case to The Hague conference.

DEMAND FOR BETTER RAILS.

The frequency with which railroad accidents are laid to broken and defective rails has been noted by many.
It has now become a matter of controversy between leading railroad men and the representatives of the steel interests. The discussion is likely to have good results to the traveling public in the improvement of the roadbed equipment.

The report of the director of maintenance and operation on the Harriman lines that 449 rails had been broken during the month of February of the present year, 179 of them being 90 pound rails which had been in use less than half a year, has been used as an illustration of the conditions. The director made inquiries of similar officials of other roads and found that they had much the same experience. Besides this specific report there have been many complaints from all parts of the country to the same general effect. It is suggested that as the rails furnished by the steel corporation have been of faulty construction some of the losses should be borne by it.

The reply is that the railroads have received just what they have ordered, the contracts being specific regarding the percentage of phosphorus and carbon and the carbon and the standard of tensile strength.
The rails are made under the direct supervision of the railroad inspectors, who test the product before its delivery to the companies. For that reason the steel corporation's agents decline to assume the responsibility which the railroads are trying to place upon them.

Instead, they say that heavier rails
are needed. A few years ago the heaviest rails were 70 or 80 pound ones.
Then the weight went up to 90 or 100 pounds to the yard. Considering the conditions at the present time they believe that a 110 pound rail is necessary. They point out that the locomotives are far heavier than they formerly were and that the cars carry three or four times their former capacity. Engines built for a certain speed are run at a much faster schedule, and certain damage to the track is the result. The recommendations from this point of view are a more perfect roadbed, heavier rails, and engines more carefully counterbal-anced. An official of one interest alluded with the steel corporation states

NEWSPAPER REPORTS

Not Exaggerated in Any Way.

Many People of Paducah Are Reporting Rapid Recovery.

The newspaper talk throughout the country relative to the great remedy Root Juice—has caused thousands of sick people to investigate, and every claim made has been found to be as true as gospel. After years of hard work and much experimenting, the great scientist undoubtedly gave to sick humanity the most wonderful medicine of the age for stomach, liver, kidney and blood troubles. Here in Paducah many people are beginning to experience great good. Any one who will take the time and trouble to go to Alvey & List's drug store can see for themselves, as people who have been greatly benefited after taking Root Juice but a few days, are now dropping in all through the day to report improvement from the very start. A gentleman bought a bottle of the Juice the first day and went back yesterday and bought two more bottles. He said: "A few doses has made his wife feel like a new woman and it had entirely stopped the disagreeable burning sensation in his stomach. A lady came back and bought three more bottles. She said she had used but little of the first bottle but that it did her so much good, she returned for more before it was all sold, as she heard it was selling so fast it was hard to keep in stock, and she feared it would run out before her bottle was used. After the lady left the instructor said:
"That lady did a wise thing, because I doubt whether we will have enough Root Juice to supply the demand. It is simply wonderful how it sells and how many remarkable cures it makes. I never heard of a weak, sickly woman who took as much as six bottles that would take its weight in gold for what it did for her. People who suffer with stomach, liver, and kidney trouble, usually start to improving from the very start. The Juice is sold for $1 a bottle, three for $2.50.

BURTON TALKS

DEEP WATERWAY PROJECT IS ONLY IN ITS INFANCY.

Is Not Opposed to Lakes to Gulf
Idea, but It Must Take Turn
—About Rates.

St. Louis, May 15.—Congressman Theodore B. Burton, of Ohio, chairman of the inland waterways commission and head of the rivers and harbors committee of the house, delivered his speech on waterways under the auspices of the St. Louis Manufacturers' association at the Olympic theater last night. He said in part:

"No one can realize the obstacles and disadvantages in the way of river improvement. We are spending $25-000,000 a year in that work. on our navy we are spending $100,000,000 a year, while the postal appropriation bill last year carried $200,000-000. We have on our books projects recommended by the United States engineers for over $400,000,000.

"I want to cite reasons why the lakes to gulf deep waterways should not have been adopted last winter.
An item does not have a status unless it has been approved by a board of review. This board reported adversely. Would it have been fair to put this project in when others so reported were denied? This project was only surveyed from Chicago to St. Louis, but it was called a lakes-to-the-gulf improvement, and extended 1,000 miles beyond St. Louis. The inland waterways commission will undertake to define what part of the ultimate expense shall be borne by government, what by the state and what by individuals. It has been stated that the fourteen-foot waterway would create waterpower of the value of $3,000,000 a year along a particular portion of the route. The engineers have held that whoever enjoys the benefit of that water power should help build the waterway.

"You are familiar with the argument that rivers regulate railroad rates. I am willing to concede that is true to a certain extent. I can not second that proposition which declares for improving a river if it never carries a steamer. I don't believe in spending $6,000,000 to make a $2-000,000 line of railroad behave itself.
Our legislators ought to have courage enough to make the railroads charge just rates without going to such lengths as creating competition by taxing the people."

KANSAS SAFE OPENED

AND $10,000 IS GONE

Topeka, Kan., May 15.—The time
lock of the Citizens' National Bank of North Topeka, which was tampered with by robbers some time Sunday night, was finally opened at midnight last night, allowing the bank officials to make an examination of the safe. Investigation showed that $10,000 of the $15,000 contained in the safe is missing. Five thousand dollars of counter currency lying in full view was left untouched by the thieves.

ARE YOU HALF SICK?
A Great Number of People Are, At This Season of the Year.

Weather conditions not alone affect business they affect the health of the average person. Take a long sleeve of inclement weather like we are having and you find a host of half sick people.

Spring days are the days of half sick people—people just sick enough to have little interest in anything, but, not ill enough to go to bed.
Such a condition calls for attention immediately, or serious results may follow. The liver, stomach, bowels, kidney or blood may not be performing their function properly, just a trifle in disorder, and once corrected
you are yourself again.

Osteopathy goes right to the seat of any disorders of this nature, and cures them.

Osteopathy is the one natural treatment in all conditions of stomach, liver, bowel, kidney, skin and blood disorders. Without the use of any medicines with proper diet, with the dry hot air treatment, where indicated the osteopathic treatment is an assured and permanent cure.

I should like to talk to you at any time about the treatment for yourself, or any member of your family, and the best testimonials I can offer you of the treatment are the commendations of Paducah people whom you know well, who have taken the treatment.

Especially is Osteopathy a rational treatment of ailments peculiar to children.

Phone me at 1407, or call at my office, upstairs 516 Broadway, and I shall be pleased to consult with you.

RAILROAD NOTES

The following young Illinois Central engineers underwent an examination in air and its application in the "air car" yesterday afternoon:
W. D. Coche and J. H. Robertson,
Central City; Jake Elfer, Louisville,
and Walter Jones, Princeton.

Claude Pike, formerly an Illinois Central pipe fitter, but now with the Big Four at Mt. Carmel, Ill., is visiting in the city.

Louis Eversly, an Illinois Central pipe fitter, is ill of fever.

Swinging a spike maul, while Dave Whitis held a bolt he was setting in a car, Harry Sulver missed the mark and struck Whitis' hand, mashing the two middle fingers. The accident will cause Mr. Whitis to lay off indefinitely.

John Weitlauf, of the Illinois Central car repairing shops, has returned from Louisville.

Joseph Mattison, Jr., clerk in the Illinois Central store room, is back on duty. He laid off on account of his father's illness.

The Illinois Central wrecking crew was sent to Luzerne mines last night to pick up two derailed cars.

There is a great deal of perishable freight moving through Paducah, and Illinois Central yard men have been diligent in sending it out on time.

Many trains loaded solidly with this class of freight have passed through this week.

The Illinois Central pay car will arrive tomorrow from Mounds, Ill.,
and local employees will be paid off.
The car will go south from Paducah, returning later to pay off between Paducah and Louisville.

WRONG GRIP; BURGLAR OUTFIT.

Janesville Woman Makes Alarming
Discovery After Leaving Train.

Janesville, Wis., May 15.—When

Mrs. E. R. Sholes, of this city arrived home after spending the day in Chicago she was handed the wrong grip by the polite brakeman, but never discovered the mistake until she opened it at home. In place of a satchel filled with purchased articles, Mrs. Sholes was horrified on finding a complete burglar outfit, consisting of steel bits, braces, nine dynamite cups and a bottle of explosive nitro-glycerin. The police are now investigating.

JAUNTY SUITS F.R. YOUNG FELLOWS

No one in the entire business world today realizes more fully the importance of having the approval of young fellows than the clothing merchant. The young man is better informed as to clothes values and more discerninating than any other class. That is the reason so much care is given to the selection of our young men's styles and that same care is the reason for our unassailable position in the favor of Paducah's young men. Our stock this season quite surpasses any previous effort, so we are doubly anxious for you to see it in its present completeness. Come in tomorrow and try on a few of the new grays, blue serges and other nobby things. You won't be urged to buy until you say the word.

DR. PICKETT

Will Speak on Subject: "Second Coming of Christ."

Evangelist L. L. Pickett, of Louisville, who is conducting the series of meetings at the Third Street Methodist church, will speak tonight on "The Second Coming of Christ." Mr. Pickett has written three books of recognized authority on this important theme, and is at present at work upon the fourth of the series. He is one of the best known exponents of this doctrine that is gaining in force but is perhaps not widely understood and he should be accorded an interested hearing. He has spoken in Atlanta and other large cities on this subject and has a wide reputation. There is much interest being evinced in those services which are held each day at 2:30 and 7:45 p. m. The singing is made an especial feature.

The Apt Pupil.

The philanthropical Fifth avenue lady was visiting a lower East Side Sunday school. To test the aptness of a particular indigent cluster of pupils, she took the class in hand to question them.

"Children, which is the greatest of all virtues?"

Not one answered.
"Think a little. What is it I am doing when I give up my time and pleasure to come down among you for your moral good?"

A grimy fist went up.
"Well, what am I doing, little boy?"

"Buttin' in!"—Life.

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Matinee Musical Club.

The Matinee Musical club is meeting this afternoon at the parish house of Grace Episcopal church. A pleasing Gaylor and Oswald program is the feature. The leaders for the afternoon are Miss Julia Scott and Miss Mary Scott.

"The Travelling Man" Braves the Elements.

The third appearance of "The Travelling Man" was greeted last evening at the Casino theater at Wallace park with a packed house. Decidedly there is no satirist in the charms and variety of "The Travelling Man" but last night surprised even the most enthusiastic admirers of it as it had to play against the elements, and won. Fully 500 people witnessed the performance and the cast scored yet another success, fully sustaining their already won laurels. In the boxes were several parties, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Will Gilbert, Messrs. Zach Bryant and Edmund Clark occupied a box. A stag party including the young men of "Hurricane Hall" filled another. Some of the younger society crowd made a party. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rudy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudy, Mr. Edwin Paxton and Miss Ethel Brooks were a congenial party.

Woman's Club Board Meets.

The executive board of the Woman's club met this morning with the president, Mrs. James A. Rudy, 609 Kentucky avenue. Only matters of routine business, however, were discussed.

Miss Hicks will be present from her home at Berkeley, Cal.—Mayfield Monitor.

Miss Hicks formerly taught in the Paducah schools and has many warm friends here among her former pupils. She went from here to Clinton, but has lived in California of late years. Mr. Dudley is also well known in Paducah, where he grew up. He is a cousin of the Hon. Hal Corbett, of this city, and is quite a genius.

The appellate court decides that James M. Lang shall receive no remuneration for managing the store, reversing the lower court in the judgment for $1,040.

The petitioners allege that Benedict has no interest in the money whatever.

Constitutional Democrats Fix Rules For Sociolists.

St. Petersburg, May 15.—In view of the prospect of an approaching break between the Social Democrats and the Constitutional Democratic deputies now in conference, various amendments to parliamentary rules have been drafted, designed to strengthen the hands of the president in preserving order, preventing filibustering by the minority and increasing the working capacity of the house. The Constitutional Democrats decided to introduce an urgent amendment providing that 100 instead of 50 votes will be required to prevent closure. It is proposed also to limit debates on minor questions to five minutes for each side.

Kansas City, Mo., May 15.—Four Kansas City ice companies were fined an aggregate of $32,000 and one concern ousted from the state for violating the Missouri anti-trust law by Judge Powell in the circuit court at Independence, Mo., today. Similar cases against four other companies were dismissed.

The concerns fined were: The People's Ice, Storage and Fuel company, $15,000; the Central company, $8,000; the Kansas City Breweries company, $5,000; the Van Derslice Lynde ice company, $4,500.

Besides being fined the charter of the People's Ice, Storage and Fuel company was revoked.

Substantial Progress Made in Filling Panel—Only Two More Jurors.

Boise, Idaho, May 15.—Substantial progress toward the formation of the jury to try William D. Haywood was made today. The selection of talesmen was halted for three solid hours over numbers five and six, but after one of these seats had been filled, progress was very rapid. At adjournment for the day the counsel for the defense had completed the examination and temporarily passed the tenth talesman.

COSTLY SLUMP

PITTSBURG WAS SHAKEN WHEN WALL STREET SHIVERED.

Many Millionaires Found Their Pin Money Gone To the Extent of Some $30,000,000.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 15.—Pittsburg banks virtually were taken by the throat during the recent Wall street squeeze and forced to disgorge $30,000,000 to be cried down to New York to save some of the frenzied Pittsburg financiers.

This is the reason why so many bankers have been limping ever since, and why so many of Pittsburg wealthy have been forced even to allow the taxes on their property to become delinquent this spring. This delinquency has evoked a public protest by Mayor George W. Guthrie.

A prominent banker revealed the facts today, and added:

"When the slump in stocks between March 14 and March 20 was at its worst, several big Pittsburgers were caught hard, and they appealed for cash help. They asserted that unless Pittsburg banks came to the rescue there would be a great splash of Pittsburg's name on Wall street. The banks responded, and not less than $30,000,000 in money was hurried to New York within 48 hours."

One of the best banking authorities in Pittsburg said this evening:

"H. C. Frick lost at least thirty pounds of flesh in six weeks' time. When he came to Pittsburg last he looked haggard and thin, and his appearance alarmed his friends. The Wall street slump probably was the first time Frick ever had to do any fighting in his own corner. He was surely on the defensive. How many millions he himself took out of Pittsburg to bolster up falling stocks never will be known. I doubt if Frick himself knows."

English and American Writers.

This reminds me of what George Augustus Sala once said to me in Rome. I had gone to him, according to agreement, to ask him what he had to say to a young man anxious to do well in journalism, in writing in general. He was sitting at breakfast when I dropped in at his hotel, very much surrounded by macaroni and the local newspapers.

"And what are your pleasures?" Sala began, without warning, as if I had gone to him for medical advice.

I was so upset by this beginning of things, that, for the life of me, I could not think for a second or two what my pleasures were. I finally managed to say that I enjoyed what.

"Stop it," said Sala, his Portuguese eyes fairly boring through me. "Stop it. Whist means cards, and cards means gambling. Stop it!"

After a pause he said, "What are the other pleasures?" If whist meant gambling, I reasoned that tobacco must premise opium. However, I admitted that I liked tobacco.

"Not strange—not strange," said Sala. "One who writes needs a smoke. What else? Are you a woman hater?"

"No, sir, I'm not," I replied, most emphatically. Sala looked at me queerly but did not pursue the subject. I had been introduced to him by a man, who, wrongly or rightly, had the reputation of saying cross things about women.

"Do you drink?" Sala continued in a moment.

"Yes when I feel like it."

"Stop it, stop it. Drinking means boozing, boozing means busting, and busting means hell—bell, young man, remember that."

There was a pause, during which Sala looked out the window as if he had taken my pulse and was deciding how much faster it could beat before I must die. Pretty soon he turned my way, and, after some general advice about coming to an early decision as to whether I meant to be a purely descriptive writer or not, delivered himself of this statement: "If you settle in London, as a journalist, you'll be a jungle. If you try New York, you'll be a boozier—unless," and again the Portuguese eyes shot at me, "you keep out of the rut."

In later years I have often thought of this talk with Sala, when comparing the two different sets of writers I learned to know in London and New York. Off hand, I should say that honors were even between them as regards the virtues, any advantage in this particular falling. If there was any, to the Englishmen, on account of the early closing hours in England.—Success.

DRINK PLENTY OF GOOD WATER

A Prescription Which Anyone Can Prepare

Nature's Great Remedy For Stomach Troubles, Kidney and Bladder Diseases and Rheumatism.

DIRECTIONS FOR TAKING IT

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," exclaimed a well known authority. "The numerous cases of stomach trouble, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the facts that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected."

Stop loading your system with patent medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines—plain common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach."

When requested for such a prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney trouble the answer was: "You must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and most of all you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach troubles and poor digestion. For these conditions I would suggest the following prescription, which is composed of only vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy. Anyone can mix by shaking well in a bottle. Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. To be taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often." This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

Two "Burners" Arrested.
Princeton, Ky., May 15.—Steve Short and Ned Pettit have been arrested by Caldwell, Trigg and Lyon county officers on the charge of destroying the tobacco beds of Firmon Oliver, J. E. Hollowell and Wallace Oliver. The affidavit was sworn to by Firmon Oliver. Both Short and Pettit are non-association men and were croppers of R. H. Hollowell. The beds the men are accused of having destroyed belonged to association farmers.

Egg Hatches Out an Engagement.
Sharpsburg, Ky., May 15.—Thos. Tally, of Maysville, wrote the words, "Wife Wanted" on an egg and signed his name and address beneath. Now he is engaged to be married to Miss Edith Fleming, of Roadville, Mass. The egg was shipped in a case of eggs to the eastern market and sold to a Boston wholesale produce man. The Boston wholesaler sold the eggs to a Roadville dealer and Miss Fleming drew the prize. She wrote to Mr. Tally and the correspondence resulted in their engagement. The wedding will take place in June.

Another Barn Burned in Trigg.
Princeton, Ky., May 15.—Word has been received here that a barn on the farm of a man named Wallace, who lives in Trigg county, just over the Caldwell line, was burned last night and the night riders are suspected of the work. Mr. Wallace was a quiet, inoffensive man, and was not a member of the association. He lost all of his farming implements. Mr. Wiley, who lives near here, reports that many of his tobacco plants on the inside of the beds have been destroyed. It may have been done by bugs, but he is inclined to think that there is a possibility of chemicals having done the work, as none of the plants on the outside of the beds were injured.

Waggoner, North Pleasureville; D. O. Groff, editor Jessamine News, Nicholasville; B. A. Gullion, editor Henry County Local, Eminence; R. H. Roe, Vine Grove, Ky.; the Rev. J.

New York, May 15.—"Japan has looked earnestly for an alliance with the United States, because, in substance, we have always regarded this country as a real ally of the Japanese. DEJECTED PREMIERS WIND UP COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

Program of Preferential Trade Relations Sadly Spoiled by Lack of Co-operation.

London, May 15.—The Imperial conference wound up, and if the attending colonial premiers spoke out their feelings to the public as they did to their acquaintances, they would call it a failure.

A more dejected group of statesmen seldom has been seen. Coming with high hopes of a preferential trade scheme and elaborate programs for imperialistic legislation, they have succeeded in pressing upon the government only a few minor prospects.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian premier supported the government at every stage of opposition to preferential trade and as a result he has become unpopular with his colleagues.

Alfred Deakin, premier of Australia, lost no chance of proclaiming the Japanese menace to Australia as a vital problem.

Bond on the Fishery Question.
Sir Robert Bond, premier of Newfoundland, contrary to expectations, succeeded in getting the Newfoundland fishery question before the conference today. Bond moved a resolution to the effect that if the home government failed to support the colonies in carrying out local statutes, but suspended or abrogated them at the instance of a foreign power, this act would constitute a serious infringement of autonomous rights.

CROP REPORT

COMPILED FOR MONTH OF APRIL BY COMMISSIONER.

Frost and Bugs Play Havoc in All Sections. Fruit Is Injured and Early Corn.

April will long be remembered as the coldest and most unfavorable for crops and spring work for many years. The weather was cool and damp from the first up to the twenty-fourth of the month. The thermometer several times registered below freezing. The warm dry spell in March caused quite a good deal of corn to be planted. This was a complete failure, as all had, or will have to be planted again. The forward wheat where it had begun to joint, is supposed to be materially injured, bringing the condition down in one month ten points. The oat crop was also damaged by freezing at the time of germination.

The peach crop is nearly all killed. Plums, cherries, pears and apples suffered considerably but not to the extent of the peach crop.

There is a general complaint of scarcity of tobacco plants. The seed from some cause failed to germinate as well as usual. The frost killed a good many where they were well advanced. For the first time the flea bug did a great deal of damage.

Ballard County—Wheat looks yellow, frost and cold weather the cause. Corn not coming up well on account of too much cold weather. Some complaint of bugs eating tobacco plants. Fruit damaged by frost.

Graves County—We have had a remarkably cold April. Crop prospects have been greatly retarded by the cool weather. Plant beds have been damaged materially on account of cold weather. I question whether there will be a full crop set owing to the scarcity. The weather is pleasant now and farmers are quite busy. Every indication bespeaks a full crop save tobacco, many sowing their beds over.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 15.—After a written declaration that he was afraid he would soon die from heart trouble, from which he was suffering, and that he did not want to leave the world without his favorite child, Hazel, aged 5 years, Francis M. Then he gasped his throat with a razor. He was discovered a few minutes later by a park policeman, with the dead child clasped in his arms. He was taken to a hospital where the doctors say there is little chance of his recovering.

Desertions From Army and Navy Get Attention From Executive Department

Washington, D. C., May 15.—More than 10,000 men deserted from the army and navy of the United States last year. Of this number 6,258 left the land service without permission and 3,998 abandoned their warships. That is to say, a force sufficient to form seven regiments of infantry and to man six first-class battleships deserted to continue to wear the uniform of the government. It is a condition of affairs so alarming that it has received the earnest consideration of the president and the secretaries of war and the navy and caused the adoption of a more considerate attitude toward enlisted men.

"Fighting efficiency," which is the sole purpose of the military and naval policy of the administration, is to be interpreted in a new way. Besides training men to handle their weapons effectively, it is proposed to give them an additional incentive for improvement and for remaining in the service by providing, in a more satisfactory way, for their well-being, to be tenet in punishing their faults and to give them every opportunity to enjoy rational pleasures. In a word, it is the happiness of the enlisted man which hereafter will be one of the prime considerations of the administration.

The seriousness of the situation is accentuated by the fact that the number of re-enlistments is so small. The number of enlistments in the navy last year was 13,418, of which only 2,218 were re-enlistments. The army accepted 15,134 recruits and re-enlisted 8,849 veterans. This means that both the army and navy are constantly dealing with the problem of training new men, which produces more or less demoralization and inability to reach the high standard of efficiency which the foreign services have attained.

The government is put to great expense in educating a man to be an efficient soldier or sailor, and the money practically is wasted if he deserts, or even if he works out his first enlistment and declines to re-enter the service. There would not be much objection to this, however, if the army and navy could obtain sufficient men to fill up the ranks. It is with the greatest difficulty that the war department is able to find sufficient recruits to maintain the army at the low limit of 60,000 fixed by the president. The navy department frankly admits it cannot make enough enlistments to meet the needs of the service, and today it is 4,000 short of the strength fixed by law.

Three Women of Today.

That the American woman is still supreme in her charm of personality and is yet true to those old-fashioned ideals of womanhood which some of the so-called "higher cult" are seeking to deprecate as unworthy the modern woman's time and thought, the following attractive Washington side-light on the wives of three notable men, is a delightful guarantee:

"There are two entirely contented women in the world, unless all signs fail. One is the wife of Theodore Roosevelt, the other is the wife of Richmond Pearson Hobson. Happy is the nation that has no history and happy is the normal woman, satisfied to let her husband's history be hers. The president's wife is a gracious gentlewoman devoid of personal vanity, unambitious to shine in the spot-light, "performing well the ways of her household," and of her immense social eminence, but seeking no personal applause. She radiates contentment. One incessantly feels rested near the well-poised Edith Roosevelt, with one's mental equilibrium wholesomely adjusted.

"A more vivid personality and perhaps a more mercurial temperament belongs to that second example of contented wifehood, Mrs. Richmond Pearson Hobson, who finds her chiefest joys in her hero. The Hobsons are still honeymooning; they always will be. They are supremely matched. Griselda Hobson, brilliant, magnetic, chic, yet she finds her own happiest fulfillment in her lord. It has been the prettiest little idyl all season long the domestic glimpse of this happy pair at their cosy home at the Connecticut. Mrs. Hobson has been keeping open house on Tuesdays, and the stalwart Captain, who is growing stalwart as he grows in frame, always assists her. It is a delight to be their guests. They are so flatteringly personal in their welcome of each one. Which is very much the secret of their political success. The gallant hero of the Merimac, one of the most distinguished looking men in Washington, lays his congressional election almost entirely at the door of his fragile little wife. Even in the earliest days of her bridehood, this pampered little daughter of fortune who had been feted in courts, accompanied her husband on his canvass through his district in Alabama, balking at no hardship, roughing it like a soldier, accompanying herself gamely to every exigency of the fight, and winning men and women like magic to her standard. She has won Washington as readily. Now, hand in hand the happy twain are setting forth on a summer lecture tour assisted by Government experts to demonstrate Hobsonian theories on navies and things. Mrs. Hobson, brown-eyed and delicately dainty, is almost petite enough to smuggle into the pocket of her husband's big, fur-lined overcoat. Her girlhood's home, where she first met her fate, is at Tuxedo Park, her father being a New York man. She is Southern on the maternal side, her mother having been Miss Houston, of Louisville, where Griselda Hall was born. Her grandfather was one of the famous Polks, of Tennessee. Miss Lucia Hall, of Tuxedo, Mrs. Hobson's younger sister and frequent guest, is a very pretty girl.

"Mrs. Taft is an adept in the mysterious science of precedent. Taft is her strong point, and should she be called on to take a higher place, few women can boast of a better preparation. Few mistresses of the White House have blended so admirably the qualities of being domestic, intellectual and artistic. Mrs. Taft and Miss Helen are fervent Episcopals. Only in matters of religion do she and the Secretary differ. He belongs to the Unitarian church, though he attends services at St. John's with his wife and daughter more frequently than he goes to the church of Our Father. Mrs. Taft is a rigid adherent of her faith. She has declined to join the cosmopolitan fashion of entertaining on Sunday and of considering Lent and historical but obsolete institutions. Mrs. Taft's predominant taste is for music. She was an active member of the Cincinnati Symphony Association for fourteen years, and for seven years its president. One of her most prized possessions is a beautiful silver punch bowl, given to her as a testimonial by the society on her retiring from office."

SHINGLE IN 40-YEAR ROMANCE.

Board Found When Barn Is Razed Gives Sutor Father's Consent.

Millersburg, O., May 15.—Forty years ago W. S. Fortune, then a farm hand living near Millersburg, wanted to marry Martha, daughter of Bradford Middaugh, a well-to-do farmer. He had obtained the girl's consent, but was afraid to ask the consent of her father to the match. One day he strolled to the Middaugh farm where a barn was being erected, and, taking a shingle, wrote his plea for Middaugh's daughter's hand on it and sent it to his prospective father-in-law. The latter wrote his consent on the shingle and sent it back to Fortune. Fortune never received it, and so drifted west. When the barn was razed last week the shingle was found and forwarded to Fortune in Nebraska. Martha Middaugh sent a letter with it, in which she referred to their engagement, intimating that she was lonesome. Fortune, in his response, said that he still loved her and would hasten back home to marry her. Neither Fortune nor Martha ever married.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL.

STEALS; CAUGHT ON WAY.

Rock Island, Ill., May 15.—Because he stole $1.50 from his landlady with which to go to the funeral of his mother at Iron Mountain, Mich., James Cundy was bound over to the grand jury in the police court today for grand larceny. He was unable to give bond and now is in jail. His hearing was held at the same hour that his mother's funeral took place at Iron Mountain.

The prisoner broke down and wept at the hearing. He exhibited a telegram stating that his mother was seriously ill, another saying she was dead, and a third giving the time of the funeral, but Magistrate Elliott could see no justification for theft in them, though their authenticity was not questioned.

Cundy recently came here. He boarded with Mrs. Laura Allen. News of his mother's death found him without funds, and he appropriated the sum stated from the drawer of a dresser in Mrs. Allen's room. He was intercepted at Joliet on his way home.

HOMEMADE EGGS FOR DAWSON.

Army of 1,500 Hens Engaged to Furnish "Real Thing."

Dawson, May 15.—Billy Anstett, of Sunnydale, opposite Dawson, is preparing to do big things this season. He is increasing his potato acreage, and will begin the production of "home-made" eggs with an army of 1,500 hens Mrs. Anstett, Billy's mother, who is outside, is assembling the hens for shipment to Dawson early in the season.

If Billy continues to increase his chicken supply at such big jumps it will not be long until we will have a hen to supply two fresh eggs for every person in Dawson every morning for breakfast. The hauling of eggs over the ice from Seattle then will be needless.

It has been found by many experiments in the line that chickens thrive here summer and winter. During the colder months it is necessary to keep them in houses heated by stoves, but with careful attention they do well.

Pigeons also are being made a specialty by Anstett. He has a string of homers at his place already, and will increase the number greatly. Squabs and other such delicacies will be plentiful in Dawson before long. Turkeys, geese and ducks are the next in line, and Anstett intends to have the turkeys. In the raising of pigeons there is some difficulty because of the number of hawks which live on the outskirts of the city.

Few photographers would care to take people for what they are worth.

HOT SPRINGS ASKS PROTECTOR

City Would Have Federal Authorities and Appoint Commission.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 15.—After several weeks of quiet campaigning, a plan was endorsed by the Business Men's league tonight asking the federal government to assume control of the municipal affairs of this city and run them with the commission.

This is done in order that some semblance of quiet may reappear, reform politics having torn the city into so many factions that the best interests of the community are being injured thereby. The government controls the hot water and bath houses, and the city is part of the reservation.

Regulation of gambling houses and race tracks and thorough police protection are desired.

Governor Edward Casper Stokes, of New Jersey, was at one time a teacher in a village school.
